CLEVELANDS ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth str

throotype edition of English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,

On the plan of the author's "Compendium of English Literature" and supplementary to it. Designed for colleges and advanced classes in schools as well as for private reading. By Charles D. Cleveland.

The "Compendium of English Literature," by Prof.
Cleveland, comprises blographical sketches and selections from the writings of English authors, from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century, chronologically arranged; together with copicus Notes, explanatory, illustrative, &c. The volume now advertised, which is arranged on the same plan as the "Compendium," comprises in its list of authors such as flourished in the eighteenth century, bet died in the present; together with those strictly of the nineteenth century, whether living or dead.

The present edition of "English Literature of the Nineteenth Century" contains biographical sketches and selections from the writings of one hundred and six authors, the names of twenty-seven of whom did not appear in the table of contents of the former edition; together with many improvements throughout the volume.

Prof. C's two volumes of English Literature are now extensively used as text-books in colleges, academies, and the higher class of seminaries, throughout the United States. The following opinions relative to "English Literature of the Nineteenth Century," are selected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious codensation of knowledge, are requisite to

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston. From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text book for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a faller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.
"I have examined with much care, and still great-account of the writings of some one chosen author.

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincianati.

'I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.'

* It is, I believe, the richest collection of gems in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and delicate task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upon each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a strong testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.'

NEW BOOK BY REV. JACOB ABBOTT.

"ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

"ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

DEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true."

The Eclectic Magnizine of Foreign Literature, IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without question the best Magnizine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—
the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magnaines, and the productions of their most gifted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines.
Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in monthly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year,
and nearly 1,800 pages, richly embellished with 12 splendid portraits of distinguished persons or historical subjects. The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it.

S the cheapest and best Musical raper in the world. This Journal, which has heretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapest as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.—One dollar per annum, or six copies for five dollars, always in advance.

The music alone in a volume would cost over five dollars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dollar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

Specimen numbers sent on receipt of two letter postage stamps. Address, always post paid.

These Reprints have now been in successful operation in this country for twenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase, nowithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and of numerous Eclecticand Magasines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Atthropy these works are distinguished by the polished on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, main tains its ancient celebrity, and is at this time unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Buch works as "The Caxons" and "My New Novel," both by Bulwer; "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Massra. THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are described with much spirit and graphic effect. * * We are disposed to regard the book as the best of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book, not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to schieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meek patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—New Albany Tribune.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a beneficent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lessons.—Pres-

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT! ELEVENTH VOLUME OF THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST,

THE LEADING

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarto pages, making an annual volume of 832 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agricul-

It is beautifully printed with type cast expressly for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wide margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener, and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transpections which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately pertaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbugs and nostrains affoat in the community will be tried by reliable ecientific rules, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep this paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is afe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness, real, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor is it the organ of any clique, or the puffing machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agricultural class.

Edulorial Department. Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

Editorial Department. The American Agriculturist is under the editorial supervision of Mr. A. B. Allen, its principal editor for the past ten years, and Mr. Orange Judd, A. M., chemist.

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been for a long time one of the most successful farmers of New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amherst College; Rev. Wm. Clift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers. cultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pen.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pager; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader Specimen Copies.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROHIBITIONIST.

vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Field.—Lealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists, and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Pronibitronist is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a Great Reformatory Movement.

Its Necessity—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Pronibitrionist is designed for circulation (instead of tracts) among the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

Its Prece—One copy for one year — $0.50

and in every case the order must be accompanied by the money.

The paper will be under the general direction of the Executive Committee, who have received ample assurances of literary aid from not a few of the ablest
and most eminent writers in the temperance ranks
throughout the Union.

The work will be stereotyped, and back numbers can be supplied to new subscribers at any time during
